Your Story

I am truly passionate about capturing beautiful stories that unfold at each and every wedding. My goal is a simple one, to take beautiful photos of the most wonderful story of your day as it unfolds.

My work consists of creative reportage, documenting moments as they happen in a creative way. A vision to focus on pure emotion along with special moments in a natural and authentic style.

My Approach

The art of story telling

I work discreetly and sensitively to fit seamlessly into the day, allowing me to capture the real moments, real emotions and the real story.

I am not your traditional wedding photographer. I will never interrupt your guests and ask them to smile for me and you won't catch me setting up the same shot for each wedding. Instead my aim is to be more like a guest with a camera: working discretely and conscientiously.

As a story teller I want to make sure your day is captured from start to finish. The result will be photographs that will take you right back to that very day, allowing you to relive every emotion and moment. Photographs that you will be proud to share for years to come.

Keeping things simple

My services are in place to keep things simple, ensuring you receive the best set of photographs possible.

There are no quirky gimmicks or confusing packages which restrict the number of hours or number of images you'll receive. Instead full day coverage comes as standard and you will receive all of your images edited in high-resolution complete with personal printing rights.

Simple, hassle free.

Of course you can choose to enhance your coverage with fine art books, an engagement session or extra photography on the days before or after your wedding.

You can also rest assured that my coverage package includes all travel expenses no matter where your wedding is taking place.

Lifestyle & engagement

Romance is in the air and the anticipation of a lifetime together comes to a crescendo in the fleeting weeks leading up to your wedding, causing you to wonder:

Is an engagement shoot really necessary? I believe having an engagement photo session is important for two reasons.

First, this time allows you, as a couple, to get comfortable in front of the camera with me, and figure out how you work best together before the main event.

Next, you can showcase your personalities in a more casual setting, while creating some fun, memorable images for wall portraits, wedding sign-in books and the like.

Fine art books

SEEING YOUR DAY IN PRINT...

You have to admit there's something very special about a brand new book, the smell, the feel, the look.

For me I didn't want to provide a big bulky traditional album which would mostly end up on the book shelf forgotten about.

I want to provide modern, fun yet stylish albums which would not look out of place on a coffee table.

When I shoot a wedding I am always capturing images for the album.

I find it's the best way to enjoy and show off your photographs and with the fine art books there is no better way to display your wedding story.

With their customised panoramic layouts, lay flat binding, matte finished fine art paper and unique photo-wrap or leather covers, are simply beautiful to behold.

Booking

First off, thank you for contacting me. It's a true honour to even be considered to document your wedding and I appreciate your time and consideration in advance!

To confirm a booking I simply require a signed booking agreement and £300 deposit to reserve your date. The final balance will be due four weeks prior to your wedding date.

About me

I live in the sleepy town of Andover with my fiancé Marie. We share a cosy home with two pedigree cats called Itchy and Scratchy.

Not the most traditional pedigree cat names I know, but who knew there was an official pedigree cat name list!

I've developed my craft in photography mainly as a music photographer shooting many great bands such as Arctic Monkeys, Queens of the Stoneage, Kings of Leon & Justin Timberlake (I know I said great but you have to keep the JT fans happy).

But it wasn't till my sister got married I found myself getting really inspired by the whole situation.

There's so much emotion, happiness and love which is very noticeable in the air.

Having seen how much my sister and mother reacted when they saw the wedding photos for the first time was simply heart warming, really emotional stuff and that's when I realised that's what I want.

I want to be able to make people feel like that after seeing my photographs.

So I ask you to join me on this little adventure of mine and lets share the best day of your life.
